

ESTABLISHMENT OF OGDEN AVIATION FIELD ASSURED; CITY ACTS; OPTION OBTAINED; COUNTY TO TAKE ACTION

Establishment of an aviation field in Ogden is now a certainty. The Ogden chamber of commerce, through its secretary, O. J. Stillwell, has secured option on a site 3,000 feet square near the Utah Hot Springs for that purpose, and the Ogden city commissioners have gone on record in a resolution passed today whereby they obligate themselves to pay a sum of $3,000 towards the purchase of the land, subject to the enactment of laws by the state legislature at its next session empowering cities to buy land for such purposes. This sum is in addition to $2,000 for improving, equipping and maintaining the field. It is understood that the county commissioners will go on record at their regular meeting next Monday to the same effect and pledging themselves to like amounts towards the purchase price, and improving and maintaining the field. Roy Nozle, who spent eighteen months in the aviation service of the United States army in France has been appointed keeper of the field.

LOGAN BUSINESS MAN IS FINED IN FEDERAL COURT

Glen Hudson of the Murdock Candy company of Logan, was fined approximately $600 by Judge T. D. In addition to the $600 fine he is required to pay to the government the amount of the delinquent war tax.

The complaint against Hudson was drawn following investigations conducted by George A. Blake, J. R. Sheppard, John Reeves and S. B. Wells, all deputy collectors of internal revenue.
